OFFICE OF PETITIONS

In re Application of Contestable	:
Application No. 10/644,606	:	Decision on Petition
Filing Date: August 20, 2003	:
Attorney Docket No. Y03-020	:

This is a decision on the petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a), filed February 14, 2006, to revive the above-identified application.

The petition is DISMISSED.

Any request for reconsideration must be submitted within TWO (2) MONTHS from the mail date of this decision. Extensions of time under 37 CFR 1.136(a) are permitted. The reconsideration request should include a cover letter entitled "Renewed Petition under 37 CFR 1.137(a)." This is not final agency action within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. § 704.

Facts:

A final Office action was mailed July 13, 2005. The Office action set a shortened statutory period for reply of three (3) months.

A reply was filed September 16, 2005.

The reply failed to place the application in condition for allowance.

The application became abandoned on October 14, 2005.

The last day a reply could have been filed, with an extension of time, was January 13, 2006.

An Advisory action was not mailed until after January 13, 2006.

A Notice of Abandonment was mailed on January 24, 2006.

Discussion:

The petition fails to establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to this paragraph was unavoidable.

“[T]he question of whether an applicant’s delay in prosecuting an application was unavoidable must be decided on a case-by-case basis, taking all of the facts and circumstances into account.”¹ The general question asked by the Office is: “Did petitioner act as a reasonable and prudent person in relation to his most important business?”²

Petitioner alleges the delay was unavoidable based on the advisory action being mailed beyond the maximum extendable time period for reply. However, a delay is not rendered “unavoidable” due to the Office’s failure to advise the applicant of any deficiency in sufficient time to permit the applicant to take corrective action.³

Petitioner’s belief that the amendment placed the application in condition for allowance was not a guarantee the amendment would be entered by the examiner. The entry of an after-final amendment is not a matter of right. A response to a final rejection may be entered if it presents an amendment that prima facie places the application in condition for allowance.

When the last day to file a reply arrived, petitioner chose to continue to wait for a response from the examiner and risk abandonment. However, petitioner could have chosen to eliminate the risk of abandonment by filing a Notice of Appeal or Request for Continued Examination (RCE). An individual, treating the application the same as a reasonable and prudent person would treat his or her most important business, would have taken steps to ensure the application did not become abandoned rather than simply assume the amendment would be entered.

Petitioner may wish to consider filing a petition to revive based on unintentional abandonment under 37 CFR 1.137(b). A grantable petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(b) must be accompanied by the required reply (already submitted), the required petition fee ($750 for a small entity), and a statement that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(b) was unintentional. A copy of a blank petition form is enclosed for petitioner’s convenience.
